LESS POTATO BLIGHT and HEALTHIER CARROTS

This is to confirm I tried your SEER Rockdust for the first time last year in my vegetable garden.

TRIALS

I used in on my CARROTS and POTATOES and for both crops I kept a sample plot where I left out the SEER Rockdust altogether.

CARROTS

This showed me clearly that the CARROTS, whilst not any larger in size had significantly more and lush green tops. Whilst I do not have the necessary equipment to prove this, I would not be surprised if this meant they had a higher nutritional value.

POTATOES

The use of the SEER Rockdust with the POTATOES did produce a very noticeable difference and benefit. This is because I have been experiencing a problem with a lot of blight in the potatoes and the crop where I used the SEER Rockdust were less affected with the blight and it therefore gave me a noticeably better crop.

Keep up the good work – I think a lot more gardeners could benefit from SEER Rockdust in a lot of different ways. I will certainly be using it again this year.

Yours sincerely

John Birnie
